INGLES:

EEDC - European Economic Development Council, as a private organization of public welfare, (WDO - World Development Organisation), focuses an important part of its efforts to the promotion of clean energies that have a positive impact on the environment and that favour the reduction of the greenhouse gases.

EEDC has a wide range of professionals with extensive experience in finance, energy, mergers and acquisitions, emerging markets and leading renewable energies.

From our headquarters in Madrid (Spain), EEDC acts on behalf of its customers and performs the necessary transactions to meet the demand of greenhouse gases allowances. Furthermore, EEDC has its own account in the RENADE - National Registry of Greenhouse Gases Emissions, which reports directly to the Spanish Ministry of the Environment and Rural and Marine Affairs.

EEDC acts in strict compliance with the existing laws and under the European standards by the means of IETA contracts with both buyers and sellers of certificates. EEDC is currently operating in the purchase and sale of CER and EUA certificates in the Spanish and International markets. The ultimate goal is to meet the requirements set by the Kyoto Protocol and to establish a serious and lasting relationship with its customers.
